Evolution.
Did it ever occur to you that people change wonderfully with the times, and of course such things as invitations, wedding announcements, et cetera, will naturally change with the other things. I shouldn't be surprised but that I'll be writing about some wedding, in this manner:

"The bride looked very well in a traveling dress, but all eyes were centered on the groom. He wore a dark suit that fitted his form perfectly, and in his daintily gloved hands he carried a small rose. His curly hair was beautifully done, and a delicate odor of hair oil, of the best quality, floated down the aisle as he passed. The young people will miss him, now that he is married. He is loved by all for his many accomplishments, his tender graces and his winning ways. The bride commands a good salary as bookkeeper in Winchester (or some other town) and the groom will miss none of the luxuries to which he has been accustomed. A crowd of pretty young men saw him off at the station."

FACTS ABOUT BOONE AND CARSON FAMILIES

W. H. Polk Would Like Information About Famous Kentuckians.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 19, 1908
Editor The News:

I am engaged in the preparation of some sketches of the Boone and Carson families and would like to open correspondence with some well posted person in each family.

Kit Carson, the Western pioneer, was born in Madison county, his father going to Missouri when Kit was a small boy. If there are any Carsons still living in Madison or Clark related to the pioneer, I would like to have their addresses.

Kit Carson was born December 24, 1809, on Tates' Creek, Madison county, and was the son of Lindsay Carson and a Miss Boone, say some writers. Not the daughter of Daniel Boone, certainly, for Daniel's four daughters were married as follows:

1. Jamima, to Flanders Calloway, one of her rescuers from the Indians when she and Elizabeth and Fanny Calloway were captured at Roanoke boro in July, 1776.

2. Susannah to Wm. Hayes, of Fayette county, great grandfather of Miss Ormie Hays of Lexington.

3. Rebecca to Philip Goe.

4. Lavenia to Joseph Scholl, of Clark county. Flanders Calloway and Wm. Hayes, with their families followed Daniel Boone to Missouri. What became of Goe and family?

I presume that some of the Scholl family still live about Schollsville in Clark county. I would like to hear from them. I knew that Daniel Boone was in some way related to the Scholls, or quite intimate with them; but not until recently did I know that Daniel's daughter, Lavenia married Joseph Scholl. I want their descendants. Also any other data of families that inter-married with the Boones.

Of Daniel Boone's sons, James B. 7, was killed at Cumberland Gap October 26, 1773, when Boone first essayed to come to Kentucky. After this affair, the company retreated to Clinch river, and remained until March 1775. Daniel Boone in the interim, was put by the Royal Governor of Virginia in command of several frontier posts, on account of the Indian war of 1774, provoked by the inhuman murder of Logan's kinsman, below Pittsburg, in March of that year, by Daniel Greathouse and other white savages and so-called Christians.

Israel, second son of Daniel, was slain at the Blue Licks massacre, August 19, 1782. Daniel Morgan Boone, the third son, also went to Missouri, as did Jesse and Nathan, the fourth and fifth sons.

Contrary to the belief of many, Daniel Boone did not go direct from Kentucky to Missouri. He left Fayette about 1785 and moved to Point Pleasant, Va., settling near the mouth of the Kenowha. There he hunted, trapped and fished for 9 or 10 years. Going thence to Missouri. But he often came to Kentucky to survey and as a witness in land suits. He frequently staid at Maysville with his cousin, Jacob Boone, in Bourbon with the Linvilles, also kinsmen, and in Fayette and Clark counties with the Hays and Scholls.

Kit Carson was seventeen years of age when he went from Missouri out into the Santa Fe trail. With the license of the wilderness, he took as his wife an Indian woman, who bore him one child—a girl. When Carson came to St. Louis and met John C. Fremont and engaged to pilot him to the Rocky Mountains, he brought this daughter along and placed her in a boarding school. What became of her, I could never learn.

On February 6, 1843, Kit's Indian wife having died some time before, he was married at Taos, New Mexico, to a Mexican girl, Maria Josefa Jaramillo, of good family. The church record thus chronicles the event:

"Christopher Carson and Ma Josefa Jaramillo married on the 6th day of February, 1843, by the parish priest, Antonio Jose Martinez. C. Carson son of Linsey Carson and Rebecca Bovenson of the State of Missouri."

"Mania Josefa Jaramillo, daughter of Francisco Jaramillo and Maria Polonia Vigil. Witnesses—George Bent and Cruz Padilla, Juan Manuel Lucer and Jose Maria Valdez."

The person who copied the above entry in the record of the church at Taos mistakenly wrote Bovenson for Robertson, as Kit Carson, Jr., in a letter to me recently, gave Rebecca Robertson as the wife of his grandfather, Linsey Carson. How it came to be stated that the mother of Kit Carson, Sr., was a Boone, I am at a loss to know. The records of marriages in Madison county show that Linsey Carson was married to Rebecca Robertson, February 11, 1796, the ceremony being performed by Christopher Clark and for the latter

Kit Carson was most likely named. On a plain headstone in the church yard at Taos, is the following inscription:

KIT CARSON.
DIED MAY 22, 1868,
AGE 59 YEARS.

It is a singular coincidence that the two greatest frontier pioneers and explorers of modern times—Daniel Boone and Kit Carson resided at one time in the same Kentucky county—Madison, and that both went to Missouri.

WHY NOT?

A PHONOGRAPH FOR CHRISTMAS.

There is nothing that will please the whole family like a phonograph

WHY NOT?

C. H. BOWEN, Jeweler and Optician.

TWO ADDITIONS AT METHODIST CHURCH

Revival Services Saturday Night and Twice Daily Next Week.

Another large crowd heard Rev. Mr. Ricks at the revival services at the Methodist church Friday night. The services will continue again to night and twice daily Sunday and all of next week. Two additions were made to the church Friday night. Dr. Ricks' subject was, "Thy Sins Will Find You Out." Text Numbers 22:23.

Mr. Ricks said in part: "All of the creations of God are founded on law. And in harmony with this law they are to find their happiest life and reach their highest achievements. The planets when moving in accord with this law so happy in their relations to each other are they that they make music by the rhythm of their movements, but if one slip from its path it is destroyed. So man, also is a creature under law and in obedience to the law of his nature and the moral law of his conduct he finds his greatest happiness and most harmonious and successful life. But when he breaks the law he is finally destroyed. 'The wages of sin is Death.'"

To Involve in Guilt.

A man does not have to break all the laws to involve himself in guilt. A man does not have to be a thief and a murderer and a gambler all at the same time to be guilty of disobedience to the law but just to be a thief involves him in guilt. A man does not have to break all the laws of God to be a sinner but one law broken and the breaker thereof is a sinner before God.

Two Kinds of Sin.

But there are two kinds of sins—Sins of omission and sins of commission. The sin of omission is and has been one of the great evils of the world. We turn from the sins of commission but think it a small thing to be guilty of omitting the things that we know we are enjoined to do. There is no little sin in the sight of God.

Little Breaches of Law.

We vindicate our tastes and poison our characters by the little breaches of divine law. Dr. Wilberforce tells of an angel that swooped down from his cloudy realm and caught up a weazel in his great claws and soared off again high up in the clear sky but after awhile that eagle began to waver in his flight and then he started downward and at last fell lifeless to the ground; and it was found that the weazel had fastened his teeth in the very heart of the eagle and had drawn his life's blood from him.

Will Find You Out.

Your sins will find you out. For illustrations of this fact look at the case of Achan and Saul and Cain and David and every other sinner before God. Not necessarily in the other world either but our sins usually find us out in this world.

But thank God we do not have to leave the picture here, if we did none of us could stand. But blessed be His name there is forgiveness. "Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow; thought you: sins be red like crimson they shall be as wool."

LOCKNAME.

Mr. and Mrs. Edlie Witt spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. L.

Misses Pattie Jones and Nancy Pharris, of Winchester, and Millie Witt spent from Friday until Sunday with Ida Witt.

Miss Ruth Bird Noel is much better.

Mrs. J. L. Witt spent Friday with her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Brookshire.

The Philadelphia Lawyer.

Is it possible that all the great Philadelphia lawyers are dead? We seldom hear of one these days. Most of them that did not die moved to New York; but for a century it was a familiar saying: "If you want the law to go your way, hire a Philadelphia lawyer." In school it was: "Professor, I can't solve this problem; you'll have to send for a Philadelphia lawyer."

ATTRACTIVE TRIFLES.

Artistic Gifts That Take Little Time to Make.

The mission photograph frame is carried out in heavy green linen crash. The colors used in embroidering the conventional design are the dark shades of green and the bronze browns. Pretty opera bags are always a welcome gift, and half a yard of handsome ribbon will make up into a most desirable receptacle for glasses.

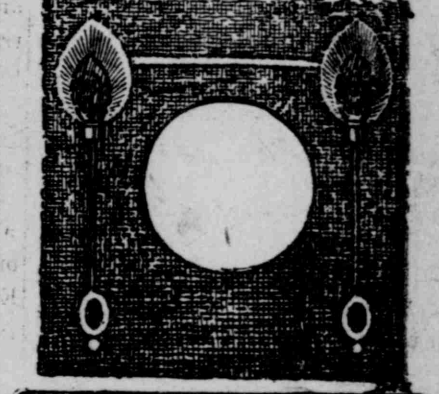

Candle shades covered with pale, pink baby ribbon in little crinkly loops are attractive and as presents would please most housewives.

Perfumed coat and skirt hangers are popular, and so are the ribbon cases that contain the glass tube bathpholder.

Really beautiful utility cases that can be hung upon a wall or rolled for traveling are made from ribbon. To make such an article get half a yard of ribbon that is six inches in width. Turn down an inch wide hem at the top and along the bottom gather and sew on a thin piece of silk the same size. This is then divided into pockets and the upper edge shirred. Runners the length of the case, dividing it into sections, should then be put on the inside.

Through these articles of the toilet such as a shoe horn, button hook, manicure implements, etc., and a sewing outfit with pockets for needles, spools of thread and silk, scissors and all such necessities are put. A little plush cushion is set firmly at one end. The pockets receive bolts of baby ribbon, buttons and all the trifles that go to furnish a workbasket.

Cardboard boxes neatly covered with ribbon and furnished with three spools of baby ribbon in dainty colorings are a gift within the skill of the amateur seamstress. A loop should be added

MATERIALS REQUIRED.

One small linen dolly.
Filo embroidery silks.
Sheet of cotton wadding.
Ten cents' worth of sachet powder.
Three yards of baby ribbon.

MISSION PHOTOGRAPH FRAME.

Inside the cover to hold a couple of bodkins and a pair of tiny scissors.

A ribbon covered glove case is equally simple of construction. It should be interlined with perfumed cotton and fitted with a soft silk lining. A pretty finish is to turn back one corner, holding down with a bow of ribbon.

Another acceptable present that can be made by the artistic girl is a set of name cards, hand painted. These are sure to give pleasure if given to a woman who entertains largely.

Those in the form of floral wreaths cut out so they slip on over the edge of the tumbler are new; also dainty figures of women copied from some old painting and provided with pasteboard backs so they stand. These figures can carry big muffs as reticules that can be lifted and show a blank space for the name underneath, thus making them available later for framing when pasted to a flat surface and surrounded by a gilt mat.

College Flags.

College flags are quite simple to make for Christmas gifts, but require care and much precision in putting the letters on as well as in cutting them.

A good plan is to cut the letters from stiff cardboard and trace around them on the felt, afterward cutting with a sharp knife.

In mounting on the felt background paste them on with a very thin coating of photograph paste and couch around all edges with many strands of silk caught down at regular intervals with a single strand of the same color.

Couching means to hold the heavy cord or many strands of silk along the edge of the thing to be outlined and stitching across it and through the material with the single thread in the needle.

Temperature 67°.

Ice does not retain a fixed temperature below the freezing point. It is not heated above the freezing point under ordinary circumstances. Like any other solid, ice is cooled in the winter to the temperature of the air, be it zero or below, and becomes warmer as the temperature rises till its melting point is reached. Then it cannot be warmer. It changes its condition to the liquid form.
